Happiness and misfortune for Anky van Grunsven

In Fridays Grand Prix Anky van Grunsven came out on top with IPS Painted Black, with Jan Brink and Briar as runner up and Bernadetta Pujals and Vincent in third place. Anky was very happy as the score of 75% she had never reached before showing her stallion IPS Painted Black. The indoor season could not have had a better start, she said happily. However, luck turned in the second day, when she fell of during the prize giving ceremony on Saturday after having finished in runner up position in the Grand Prix Special, when her stallion IPS Painted Black suddenly gave a buck. Anky hurt her leg and went to hospital. Even though fortunately nothing was broken, Anky decided to withdraw from showing IPS Krack C in the Freestyle. She did however start Nelson in the Intermediate I in the morning and as able to win the class.

Mexican Pujals wins Special

In the Grand Prix Special Flyinge a new name saw the top of the podium. Mexican rider Bernadette Pujals took first prize with 15-year old stallion Vincent (sired by Weltmeyer x Absatz). Bernadette Pujals lives in Mexico but commutes to Germany and trainer Jonny Hilberath on a regular basis. Dressage sport is still a very little sport in Mexico. Bernadette Pujals is one of five riders at Grand Prix-level in the country.

The second Flyinge International Dressage Show again spotted a field with competitors from twelve different nations this year and wins were scored by three different nationalities, Dutch, Mexican and Swedish.

Flyinge International Dressage Show was open to Young Riders with a special tour for them as well. Danish Anne Bendix proved to be unbeatable showing Cappucino (sired by Carano x Avanti) and won three days in a row.
